Interest and Payment
Earns Interest	Yes - This product has a variable interest rate Your interest rate and annual percentage yield (APY) may change at our discretion at any time. The APY assumes that interest paid remains in the account. A withdrawal will reduce earnings. We use the daily balance method to calculate the interest on your account. This method applies a daily periodic rate to the collected balance in your account each day. Interest is calculated on a simple interest basis (no compounding—the interest, once credited, does not begin to earn interest), using the number of days in a year, and is credited to your account monthly. If you close your account before interest is credited, you will not receive accrued interest. Interest begins to accrue no later than the business day we receive credit for the deposit of noncash (checks). See the Commercial ECR + Interest Deposit Rate Sheet. Funds in your account qualify for an “earnings credit” in the Account Analysis system. These credits are applied to fees assessed for Treasury services. Any remaining balance has a bank-determined interest rate applied to it as described in this disclosure.

How Deposits and Withdrawals Work

Deposit Funds Availability (When funds deposited to your account are generally available)	Cash deposited: Next business day Check deposited: Next business day generally, unless a hold is placed Direct Deposit and Wire Transfer: Same business day We may place a hold on funds you deposit in your account by check. If we do, a portion of the funds will generally be available to you the first business day after the day of deposit. Depending on the type of check you deposit, the remainder of the funds may not be available to you until the second day after the day of deposit or even later. We will generally tell you at the time you deposit a check if a portion of the funds from the check will not be available to you the business day after the day of deposit. We will also tell you when those funds will be available. For determining the availability of funds deposited by check, every day is a business day, except Saturdays, Sundays, and federal holidays. The end of a business day varies by banking center. See your Deposit Account Agreement for additional details.

- The monthly maintenance fee is captured through Account Analysis. Account Analysis is a systematic method of grouping balance, activity, service, and fee data. The Account Analysis statement (much like an invoice) displays certain bank activities and services that have been used during the month. Related fees and the “earnings credit” are also displayed. Fees may be reduced or eliminated by the earnings credit, which is calculated using account balances and a bank-determined rate.
- The Transaction and Cash Deposit Fees show the standard charges applicable to this account for each transaction. The standard fees listed, however, may be adjusted and customized to you depending on Relationship Pricing and additional Treasury services you utilize in your deposit account. For a full list of any adjusted charges, please refer to your pro forma (along with the Fee Schedule document), or you may also contact your relationship manager.
- Convenience Services are internet, mobile and text messaging services. Internet, mobile and text messaging service provider rates and fees may apply for the following services: Business Online Banking, Treasury Internet Banking, any of our online products, mobile applications and alerts. Additional Bill Pay fees may apply for expedited delivery options. Transaction notifications are sent to your email account and/or mobile device by SMS text. Account must be enrolled in online products to manage alerts.
- The First Data® name, logo and related trademarks and service marks are owned by First Data Corporation and are registered or used in the U.S. and many foreign countries. All trademarks, service marks and trade names referenced in this material are the property of their respective owners. Merchant Services products and services are provided by First Data Merchant Services LLC and not by National Bank of Arizona, a division of Zions Bancorporation, N.A. Member FDIC.
- Any overdraft interest that accrues will be assessed through the Account Analysis system. Contact your relationship manager for details.

Rates Effective: 3/19/2020

“APY” refers to the annual percentage yield and “Rate” refers to the interest rate.
